

Calvary: the Hill Children's Ministry Vision and Goals

What Is Our Vision?

To build up and equip our children together as a church family in truth and love.

Our C:H Kid's Ministry is structured as a relational ministry. The desired result is that we disciple our children through the serving together as a family.

Who Is The C:H Kid's Ministry Team?

Our children and families are a part of the church. Members of the church are called to build up one another in truth and love; this includes teaching and building up our children.

The C:H Kid's Ministry team is made up of both parent and non-parent volunteers who disciple and equip our children with Christ-centered principles.

Child Safety

We take child safety very seriously in C:H Kids. All of our volunteers are background checked and receive teacher training. Only volunteers are allowed in building during service time.

How Do Parents Help?

After a child or family has been attending C:H Kids for a consistent period of time, both parents are asked to volunteer to serve in C:H Kids once per month.

No single role will require the parents to create their own material. Each role is equipped with pre-written curriculum prepared for them.

Can Non-Parents Volunteer?

Yes! If you love kids and want to help build them up in the Lord - you are qualified!

If you would like to serve in C:H Kids, contact the C:H Kid's Leadership.

What Happens During C:H Kid's Service?

Each week involves worship, Bible stories, scripture memory, activities, and crafts.

Over the course of three years, we cover the entire narrative of the Bible with the kids so that they can learn all about God and develop a friendship with Jesus.
